About ASLI

The Association of Senior Living India (ASLI) is the premier national voluntary membership association dedicated exclusively to the senior care sector, bringing together organisations and professionals across senior living, assisted care, home care, healthcare, dementia care, technology, hospitality and allied services.

India's ageing story is moving rapidly from emergence to expansion. As the senior population grows and expectations around longevity, independence, health and quality of life evolve, the need is no longer simply to create more services, but to build a strong, integrated and trusted ageing ecosystem.

ASLI serves as a platform that brings together industry, policymakers, investors, healthcare professionals, service providers and other stakeholders to advance this ecosystem. Our focus is on collaboration, advocacy, knowledge sharing, capacity building and the adoption of quality and ethical standards across the sector.

From independent and assisted living to home care, dementia care, healthcare and technology-enabled solutions, the senior care landscape is becoming increasingly diverse. ASLI works towards greater recognition of these emerging models, encourages best practices and supports the development of a sector that is built around choice, access, quality, transparency and dignity.

Through industry programmes, knowledge initiatives, stakeholder dialogues and advocacy with government at both the National and State levels, ASLI works to create an enabling environment for responsible sector growth. Our international knowledge-exchange initiatives, including study tours to Japan and China, have further enabled the Indian sector to learn from evolving models of ageing, care, financing, infrastructure and community-based solutions.

As India enters a new phase of demographic change, ASLI remains committed to bringing the ecosystem together — connecting ideas, enabling collaboration and helping shape a more prepared, responsive and sustainable future for ageing in India.

Chairman's Note

Dear Participants, Partners and Friends,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the 7th ASLI Ageing Fest 2026. India's ageing journey is entering an important new phase. The opportunity and the demographic imperative are increasingly well understood. The conversation must now move beyond why India needs a strong ageing and care ecosystem to how we build one that can serve millions of seniors sustainably and at scale.

This requires much more than creating senior living communities or care services. It requires an enabling policy and regulatory environment, patient and long-term capital, sustainable business models, a large and professionally trained workforce, appropriate standards, and technology and innovation that can help us deliver better outcomes. Above all, it requires collaboration across government, industry, investors, healthcare providers, innovators and academia.

It is with this objective that we have significantly enhanced the format of the ASLI Ageing Fest this year — making it a two-day platform designed to enable deeper learning, greater interaction and more meaningful conversations.

For the first time, we begin on Day 1 with exclusive and interactive Masterclass sessions. Participants will have the opportunity to engage directly with leading investors who have backed businesses across senior living, senior care and AgeTech, as well as entrepreneurs and business leaders who have successfully scaled organisations and raised significant institutional capital. We hope these candid conversations, followed by an evening of networking, will provide practical insights that go well beyond what is possible in a conventional conference format.

Day 2 brings together distinguished Indian and international speakers across five areas that we believe will be critical to the next phase of our sector's development: Policy, Regulation & Financing; Capital for Longevity; the Future of Senior Living & Care; Workforce & Standards; and AgeTech, AI & Innovation.

In another first, we intend to use AI to capture and provide participants with an authenticated summary of the key insights and learnings from the conference — helping ensure that the knowledge generated during the fest continues to create value well beyond the event.

Chairman's Note

Our Knowledge Partner's report, being released during the Fest, will complement these conversations with research and perspectives on the evolving ageing ecosystem. We will also celebrate entrepreneurship and institution-building through the ASLI Founders Award, before concluding the Fest on a celebratory note with our senior fashion show — a reminder that ageing is ultimately as much about living, participation and aspiration as it is about care.

The ASLI Ageing Fest has always been about bringing the ecosystem together. This year, our ambition is to go one step further — to create a platform where the ecosystem can learn from one another, challenge conventional thinking, build relationships and collectively shape the future of ageing in India.

India will need many more entrepreneurs, investors, professionals, innovators and institutions committed to this sector over the coming decades. As the industry body representing this growing ecosystem, ASLI has an important role to play in bringing these stakeholders together and helping create the conditions for the sector to scale responsibly.

I look forward to welcoming you to Chennai on 28–29 September 2026 and more importantly, engage in candid conversations, new ideas, meaningful connections and collective action. Together, we have an opportunity not merely to respond to India's demographic transition, but to help shape how India ages.

Warm regards,

RajaGopal G

Seniors Exclusive Fashion Show in Association with Ashiana Housing

India is ageing — and with it, the idea of what it means to grow older is changing.

Today's seniors are living more actively, making their own choices, embracing technology, pursuing new interests and, increasingly, expressing themselves on their own terms. The runway is simply another space where that individuality deserves to be seen.

As part of the 7th ASLI Ageing Fest 2026, ASLI presents its exclusive Seniors-Only Fashion Show — a celebration of confidence, individuality and the evolving identity of older adults. This is not about defying age. It is about redefining what ageing can look like. From timeless elegance to contemporary style, our senior participants will take the spotlight and challenge the stereotypes that too often define later life. Because fashion, confidence and self-expression do not come with an expiry date.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to Ms. Shilpi Choudhary and SDJ International for their impeccable curation, choreography and exquisite garments, and to our wonderful senior participants whose energy and spirit bring the runway to life.

Celebrity haute Couture designer, stylist, fashion historian, fashion activist n Professor Shilpi Choudhury She has more than 3650 shows to her credit. Recipient of international n national awards. Winner of first place in fashion awards for 2024 n 2025 in inter corporate fashion competition. She has mentored film stars n supermodels. Winner of innumerable metgala shows all over the country. Recipient of international arab award, national award as creative designer, women empowerment award twice, platonic award for fashion mentor, coco Chanel award for haute Couture designer, strong women award, mahila samman award, fashion mentor award at noida film city 2026.

Our special thanks to Ashiana Housing for their generous sponsorship and continued support in making this celebration possible. Here's to ageing with confidence, choosing your own style and continuing to take centre stage.

Gratitude Note

Dear All,

There is something deeply encouraging about watching a small group become bigger and begin shaping the conversation around a critical issue—which is ageing.

The ASLI Ageing Fest has, for me, become much more than an annual gathering. It is a coming together of people who bring different experiences, perspectives and ambitions to the ageing ecosystem, but share a belief that India must prepare thoughtfully for a society that is ageing, changing and evolving.

I feel deeply grateful to each one of you who has contributed to making this year's Fest possible. The encouragement, trust and commitment of ASLI members continue to inspire me every single day. It is this collective spirit that makes our community so special.

A very special word of thanks to our Organizing Committee—Mr. Rajagopal, Dr. Karthik Narayan, Mr. Ankur Gupta, Mr. Rajit Mehta, Mr. Kushal Ramesh, Mr. Amit Vaidya, Ms. Neha Sinha, Mr. Adarsh Narahari, Mr. Srikumar and Mr. Ramesh Kumar. The many conversations, calls, ideas and hours that went into this Fest may not always be visible, but they are what make an event like this possible.

To our Sponsors—Ashiana Housing, Golden Planet Senior Heritage Homes, Infinity Group, Athulya Senior Care, Heyday Senior Care Services, Manasum Senior Living and Serene Communities—thank you for placing your confidence in ASLI and supporting the larger conversation we are trying to build.

A heartfelt appreciation to our Supporting Partners—Team PwC India, our Knowledge Partner, with special thanks to Dr. Rana Mehta; and Team JLL India, our Research Partner, particularly Mr. Karan Singh Sodi, for bringing rigour and perspective to the conversation through your work.

My thanks also to Team Cyces Innovation Labs LLP for their technology support and for making this event even more valuable for attendees; Team Buffalo Soldier for the creative support; Team Repunext for steering our social media; Team Dentsu for amplifying our voice; Team Sahabhaav for the thoughtful speaker gifts; and to all our exhibitors for adding to the richness of the Fest.

And a special thank you to Ms. Arnica Niti and Ms. Poorva Birla. Your ownership, dependability and good humour make the long days considerably easier—and much more enjoyable.

When I look at the Fest today, what makes me happiest is not simply that it has grown, but that more people are finding a place within the conversation. That, ultimately, is what we are trying to build at ASLI—a community that keeps widening the lens through which India sees ageing.

Thank you for being part of it.
